

general agencies

If you are thinking of doing some general cooking jobs after the course, such as cooking for families over the shooting season in Scotland, Cornwall in summer, helping at cocktail events in London etc. contact the following agencies. You will need to go for an interview with them, to explain your needs and desires, and then hopefully sit back and wait for a phonecall. (as long as you have received a good reference from us!)

If you are wishing to work overseas we would suggest you purchase 'The Good Cook's Guide to Working Worldwide' by Katherine Parry. Published by Vacation Work. You can buy this book from www.vacationwork.co.uk. This book has a wealth of information about the types of jobs available, major international employers, a regional guide to worldwide work, and a cooks reference section. It is well worth buying!
